Community Xmas Fete December 24th

Kiddies, who each year receive a Christmas treat from what is known as the Community tree have George Burke to thank in a big way. It was Mr. Burke who first conceived the idea of a Community Christmas, and it is something like 15 years that he has been taking a lot of his valuable time making the rounds to solicit contributions to make the treat possible. It doesn't just take a few hours, it takes plenty of time. At first there were only a few hundred kiddies but the last few years it has grown to over a thousand.

There has been a movie at the Rialto Theatre besides the bag of sweets, but this year, as Grayling is free of any contagious disease the business men felt that it should be kept that way, so decided that the party should be an out of door affair where there is plenty of good fresh air. Mr. Burke had planned either a movie or a big dinner, but it was later decided to eliminate these and have just the treat.

So the regular annual Community tree will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock and good old Santa Claus will make an advance visit and distribute large sacks of candies and nuts to boys and girls.

Mrs. John Holliday Dead

Mrs. Martha Holliday, wife of the late John Holliday, died Sunday in Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Holliday and husband and son Marshall resided in Grayling for many years, where Mr. Holliday conducted a notion store in the building now occupied by Eggle Bugby. Mrs. Holliday taught piano and had a large class of pupils. They came to Grayling from Cheshaning. Later they moved to Detroit, and then to St. Helens where Mr. Holliday died.

Following the death of Mr. Holliday, his widow continued her home in St. Helens. She became active in fraternal circles and was a former national president of the Ladies National League.

Last fall she went to Grand Rapids and entered Blodgett hospital where she remained a patient until her death. Her son Marshall of Grand Rapids, survives. Interment was in Cheshaning Tuesday.

Johnson Funeral Held Saturday

Funeral services for Charles B. Johnson were held at the family home Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock, Rev. P. C. Stockholm of the Grayling Lutheran church officiating. There were many old friends in attendance at the last rites of the deceased, who had been one of Grayling's estimable citizens for over 35 years. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Manistee, and the family were accompanied there by sixteen members of the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps, six of whom were the pallbearers. At Manistee the Johnson family were met by relatives, Mrs. Christine Hanson and three daughters, Louise, Flora and Inez and sons Carl and Willard and their wives and Mr. Alfred Hanson. Rev. Leo Broe officiated at the services at the chapel at Oak Grove cemetery in Manistee.

Mr. Johnson, who was close to 86 years old, passed away at his home at 2:15 o'clock Thursday morning following an illness of about a week. He had taken a bad cold and a couple of days later it developed into pneumonia, causing his death.

Mr. Johnson was born on April 1st, 1855 in Holstad, Hallan, Sweden. He came to the United States in the fall of 1872 and after a two years stay in New York City went to Pennsylvania, where his lumbering career began, and this is the work he followed throughout his life. Coming to Michigan in the 80's he found lumbering at its height and worked in the camps along the Manistee river. On July 12, 1888 he was united in marriage to Hansena Hanson, in Manistee, and after a couple of years' residence there they came to Grayling and operated what was known as the Manistee House, that is now the Fischer Hotel, for a year. In about 1889 the family moved to Lewiston where Mr. Johnson built the Lewiston Hotel, which they operated for 15 years or until the lumber mills in that section shut down. In 1904 they went to Alpena to live and two years later came back to Grayling and this has been the family home since. In Grayling Mr. Johnson was employed by Salling Hanson Company until their mills ceased operations.

Mr. Johnson liked people and enjoyed his friends. He was always friendly and had a kindly smile for everyone. He was at the head of a fine family to whom he was ever devoted. He will be greatly missed by a large number of our citizens, especially those who have resided here for a considerable time. He was a member of the Danish Lutheran church and also a member of Grayling Oddfellow lodge. Surviving the deceased besides his widow is one daughter, Mrs. Mollie Bosworth, and two sons Carl W. and Clarence, all of Grayling. Also two brothers Peter Johnson of Frederic and Adolph Johnson of Minneapolis, Minn. Those in attendance at the funeral from out of the city included Peter Johnson and two sons, Raymond of Frederic and William of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merry of Gaylord. The family have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Change In Ferry Service At Straits

The state highway department this week announced that with lessened traffic at the Straits following the close of deer hunting season, state ferry service has been reduced to two boats a day. The early winter schedule, effective December 1 to 15, inclusive, is as follows: Leave Mackinaw City and St. Ignace at 6 a. m. and every hour and one-half until 9 p. m., inclusive.

SEASON'S GREETINGS!

Claim Benefits By 8-Hour Nursing Plan

At a meeting of the Private Duty Section of the Grayling District of the Michigan State Nurses Association, held on December 4, 1940, at Mercy Hospital, the eight hour day for private duty nursing service was adopted, to take effect on January 1, 1941, replacing the twelve hour day now in effect.

This was accomplished following a round table discussion at an earlier meeting of the district nurses, at which time Miss Olive Sewell, executive secretary of the Michigan State Nurses Association was guest speaker, discussing the benefits of the eight hour day to the public.

The eight hour schedule of both staff nurses and private duty nurses at this time has been adopted in better than 70% of the hospitals in the United States, thus rendering more efficient services to the public.

Rates for the eight hour day will be as follows: Five dollars a day, plus nurses meals, or expenses for nurses' meals while on duty. Hourly nursing service in the home was also adopted at the following rate: two dollars for the first hour and fifty cents for each additional hour.

The people of these communities are fortunate in having the benefits of this schedule of nursing service, working in unison with the eight hour schedule already in practice by the staff at Mercy Hospital.

Church Giving Cantata

One of the Christmas features in Grayling is the cantata given at Michelson Memorial church annually. This year there will be a chorus of 20 voices, presenting "Christ Is Born." This cantata will be under direction of Mrs. C. G. Clippert, the same as on several previous similar occasions.

There will be candle light service beginning at 6:00 p. m. Another feature of the service will be a junior choir of about 50 voices. Also there will be other musical features, both vocal and instrumental.

Greeting

To my friends in Grayling I extend a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

The Grayling Restaurant quintet won over Hunter's Dairy Friday in a closely contested match, the margin of victory being 110 pins. Joe Cinciala was high scorer for the winners with a total of 581. He knocked down 222 pins in his second game for a three-game average of 193, and that's real bowling on any team.

The fellows from Lovells put up a good game and with a little more time on the alleys should make good competition for any Grayling team.

The first match play between women's teams will take place this Thursday evening. The school teachers will have a line-up opposing Mrs. Bidvia's group. Some of the girls have been getting some pretty good scores in practice and it wouldn't be a bit surprising to see some of the men's scores bettered.

Friday night, Hunter's Dairy and Jarmin's Insurance meet. Hunter's team has won two out of three games so far and Jarmin's were victorious in their only match to date, defeating the Avalanche team last week.

The Grayling Restaurant team won their second victory of the week by defeating Rasmussen Lumber Co. Wednesday night. The Restaurant sharpshooters took a lead of 90 in the first game, and although the lumbermen took the second tilt by 38 pins, the gap was too great to overcome and the final score showed a difference of 101.

Sam Rasmussen had the highest total for the losers, although Art May had a top of 207 for a single game. Richardson showed the way for the winners with 530, also top in individual scoring with 170 and a pair of 180's.

Kiwanis Club Notes

It was Christmas time Wednesday noon for the Kiwanians and Santa Claus was there and there were Christmas carols and a lot of Christmas revelry.

Kiwanian Max Laage made a swell Santa and informed the members that he was happy to provide gifts and that the members should have a lot of pleasure out of them but before they left they were to leave the gifts to be distributed to boys and girls of Grayling.

To keep the financial slate clean, those in arrears for dues coughed up and now Treasurer Norm is smiling again.

The Kiwanis bowling team reported progress and some of the members are advocating that the gutter be placed in the middle of the alley instead of on the sides. Dr. Stanley Miller had high game score at Tuesday night's session.

The three-game standings of the players were as follows:

Granger—472; Stealy—402; Miller—486; Melichar—451; Penrod—487; Milnes—351, and Trudgeon—466.

Next week and the week following the regular meetings will be held on Tuesday noons instead of Wednesdays in order to avoid a holiday meeting. Earl Burns, proprietor of the local Gamble store was voted to membership.

Roscommon Meeting

Several members of Grayling Kiwanis club attended a meeting of the Houghton Lake Kiwanis club held in Roscommon Tuesday night. The meeting was held at the Roscommon hotel.

Washington, D. C.

BRITISH INVASION

The British are coming to Washington at a rate that almost amounts to a second invasion. Even in 1814, when the Redcoats burned the Capitol, their force was scarcely more impressive.

Actually there are 430 representatives of the British government in Washington today—130 members of the embassy staff, 300 members of the British purchasing commission and British air commission. The figure includes everyone—officers, clerks, messengers and chauffeurs.

The British embassy and chancery now is the largest diplomatic establishment in Washington, but it is not large enough. An annex has been added to care for an overflow of coding clerks and officials of the office of economic warfare.

Meanwhile the two British commissions occupy space in four other buildings. They started out in modest quarters in the Hibbs building, expanded to the entire top floor of the Willard hotel, added further space in the Adams building, and most recently have taken over Andrew Mellon's old apartment building at 1785 Massachusetts avenue to accommodate the air commission.

These are the British in Washington alone. In addition, the New York office of the purchasing commission numbers 1,000 persons, plus 500 inspectors who travel about the country testing the wide assortment of articles, from ships to airplanes, which are being purchased in the United States.

U. S. RUBBER SUPPLIES

Should congress ever decide to investigate the National Defense commission it would unearth some appalling delays in the securing of the nation's raw materials—particularly rubber.

Real fact is that a fundamental difference exists between the defense commission and Jesse Jones regarding future rubber supplies. The commission believes that the production of synthetic rubber should begin immediately, and wants to give a subsidy of $190,000,000 to American rubber companies. The subsidy would be necessary to offset the price of natural rubber, which sells for 18 cents to 20 cents a pound, whereas synthetic rubber would cost about 25 cents.

Six Synthetic Rubbers.

To this end, the defense commission has been negotiating with various rubber companies, and the following are ready to co-operate if a subsidy is granted:

DuPont, which produces Neoprene. This company is by far the most experienced in the field, and its product has the highest production.

Standard Oil, which produces Butyl and has the license for U. S. production of the famous German synthetic rubber, Buna.

Goodyear, which produces Chemgum.

Goodrich, which produces Ameripol.

United States Rubber, which is working on a product, so far unchristened.

However, Jesse Jones doesn't believe that synthetic rubber needs to be produced on a large scale. He favors a small subsidy to one company as an experiment.

The defense commission counters with a forecast of what might happen should all our rubber be cut off in the Dutch East Indies. It emphasizes that machinery cannot be set up overnight to produce emergency rubber. Stettinius is really aroused, may appeal to the White House if he doesn't soon move Jesse.

HOOVER VISITS CAPITAL

Although Herbert Hoover constantly shuttles back and forth about the country, he sedulously avoids Washington. The ex-President has a phobia against Washington under the New Deal.

Hoover's last public visit was last winter, when he appeared unannounced before a congressional committee in behalf of a loan for the then embattled Finns. But he spent the entire day here sub rosa last Sunday.

Hoover stayed at the swanky home of William R. Castle, undersecretary of state in his regime and one of the most active appeasement advocates in the country.

Hoover spent most of his time conferring with Castle and some old newspaper friends about his plan to force the British to open their blockade so that food can be shipped into Nazi-occupied Europe.

Non-partisan News Letter
Michigan Press Association
By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—Joy is lacking in Michigan today when the old holiday refrain is sung: "Yo, ho, ho! And a bottle of rum!"

With a nose federal grand jury returning indictments by the dozen as the result of a four-year-old investigation into the purchase and sale of liquor, this rummy business in Michigan is utterly devoid of "yo, ho, ho!" Believe us, mates!

Michigan is one of 14 states which have sought to control the sale of liquor for the purpose of preventing political, social and economic abuses. We have what is known as a "state liquor monopoly," and while the emphasis has seldom been on revenue, nevertheless the monopoly has paid handsome dividends to the taxpayers for state and municipal activities. The consumer pays the usual prices; yet a slice of the profit goes to the state. European countries even have established monopolies for tobacco, or salt, or even matches—all for the purpose of revenue for public services.

Both Parties

It is common law custom not to imply guilt until the accused has been convicted, and the innocence of a defendant is likewise assumed until court and jury decide otherwise.

Hence the grand jury indictments may be taken, for our purposes, only as a peg upon which to hang certain observations and interpretations, none of which will attempt to try the case in print.

In the first place, the grand jury inquiry has been under way for the past four years, two years of which were under Democratic control and the other two years under Republican control.

The indictments cover a period of eight years. It is also noteworthy to observe that the fluctuating independent voting block of Michigan's electorate has swung the political scales from one party to the other every two years in the past decade.

Frank A. Picard, of Saginaw, now a federal judge in Detroit, was chairman of the state liquor control commission during the first two years of the liquor control law in 1933 and 1934. Then came the first Fitzgerald administration with Judge John S. McDonald of Grand Rapids, a Republican, serving as chairman.

After Frank Murphy, now a United States supreme court justice, became governor on Jan. 1, 1937, Prof. Edward W. McFarland of Wayne university, Detroit, was appointed chairman as a Democratic member. The swinging pendulum back to Fitzgerald brought Orrin A. DeMass of Detroit, a Republican, into the position as commission chairman.

Millions of Dollars

The making and sale of liquor is big business with two capital B's.

November sales in Michigan exceeded $3,500,000 of which 54 per cent were in Detroit. Package sales through private dealers accounted for 55 per cent of the state sales; licensees (clubs, taverns, etc.) 30 per cent, while the state liquor stores sold 15 per cent.

Detroit sales through private dealers or state stores were less than the state percentages, while purchases by the glass rose to 41 per cent instead of the 30 per cent state average.

Also of interest is the continued rising demand for hard liquors, and the lagging consumption of beer on the basis of pre-prohibition figures. Brewers have a real problem on their hands, not only to dignify their product through the control of social abuses but to maintain popular consumption of their product.

The distillers, too, have had a perpetual headache. The Michigan situation, if so determined in court, was apparently just one annoyance of many.

Voluntary Control

It was seven years ago that the eighteenth amendment was repealed, and the liquor distillers have yet to solve the problem of stabilization through voluntary control.

Faced with a certainty that a repetition of liquor abuses, or lack of proper control would invite the ultimate return of prohibition, leading distillers sought to impose self-regulation. They proposed for themselves a czar such as Will Hays for the motion picture industry, or Judge Kene-saw Mountain Landis for organized baseball. Dr. Wesley Sturges, Yale professor, was selected to be director of the Distilled Spirits Institute.

The Institute sought to police its own affairs. The Michigan situation, wherein distillers are said to have made graft payments for the questionable (if not mythical) "privilege" of selling their products in Michigan, became just one of the numerous worries.

However, disagreement among the distillers disrupted the liquor czar plan. Dr. Sturges resigned. A price-war recently broke out in New York City and Chicago. The U. S. Treasury department, successor to the defunct federal alcohol administration, is threatening to invoke powers against unfair trade practices, while the Federal Trade commission is swinging a club against so-called collusive fair-trade enforcement which is another phrase for price stabilization to the industry, or price-fixing to the consumer.

Dry Sentiment

A recent survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion, headed by Dr. George Gallup, revealed that dry sentiment has not increased sharply in the past year or so. The trend toward prohibition is still to crystallize.

Majority public opinion still holds as socially acceptable the drinking of cocktails by both men and women.

The Michigan Anti-Saloon league recently abandoned an effort for an initiative law to prohibit liquor sales outside of municipalities, and there has even been some talk of changing the name of this venerable organization, now headed by Senator Earl Burhans, Paw Paw.

But the federal grand jury activity is bound to provoke certain repercussions in the 1941 state legislature. It has, opened up, once again, the ancient problem of controlling the sale and consumption of that bottle of rum.

Christmas Card Was Invented
By a Man With Many Friends

This is believed to be the first Christmas card. It was made in London in 1848.

CHRISTMAS cards are almost as much a part of Christmas as Santa Claus himself, yet they have been in use less than a century.

According to most records, the first Christmas card was designed in 1848 by Mr. J. C. Horsley, a prominent member of the Royal academy of London. It was produced at the request of Sir Henry Cole, a man with many friends.

Sir Cole wondered how he could express his personal Christmas greeting to a thousand friends spread throughout England. After dismissing the thought of visiting each personally, or giving presents, he decided to send them each a card by mail.

One thousand hand colored cards were prepared with a picture showing a jolly family seated at a huge dinner table. Each member of the family was looking into a brimming glass which he held in his hand.

When these cards were distributed, they raised a furor among temperance proponents throughout the country. The disturbance focused nationwide attention on the new greeting card.

It was not until several years later, however, that the first lithographed Christmas card made its appearance. Originality was almost completely lacking. The greeting was invariably "A Merry Christmas" or "A Jolly Christmas." Designs seldom had anything to do with the season, but contained pictures of birds, flowers, animals or children.

America soon adopted the British custom, and the Christmas card was born.

The Pana-Canal

I've come to a land that is far to the south,
Where grows neither spruce nor pine.
An outlying possession, I'll tell you where,
It's latitude north about nine.

The Pana-Canal where I've hung my hat
Is a land that is lovely and tropic.
The reason I'm here? Must I explain?
Besides I would be changing the topic.

Bananas grow wild by the side of the road.
These are wonders the North doesn't know.
Wild peccaries, pumas and panthers, and palms
In a land that has never seen snow.

The birds are all most interesting
With gay bright colored quills
You'd laugh to hear their raucous songs
And see their out-sized bills.

There's plenty of coconut milk to drink
While enjoying the tropical breeze.
I will take your breath away to hear
How meions grow on trees.

The natives live in palm-thatched huts
On the many tiny ranches.
Where the fence posts often start to sprout
And send up little branches.

Drinking "Scotch" at Gardens is much fun.
Watch Sadie do the splitz
And finish off the wee-small hours
By visiting Kelly's Ritz.

It's fine to be in Panama
Sometimes I think I'll stay
Down where the palms are whispering
And the balmy trade winds play.

Then I long for a whiff of the northern pines
Back home its nearly Christmas.
What will I do without any snow
Away down south on the Isthmus?

John Bugbee, employed at the DuPont Co. plant as time-keeper, had the misfortune to fall down the back steps of his home, Thursday, dislocating one of his shoulders.

Mrs. Herman Doroh was called to Tawas City Tuesday by the death of her sister, who passed away in a Bay City hospital, Sunday.

Walter Doroh, who formerly took tickets at the moving picture show, suffered a painful injury Sunday, while cutting down a tree, to be used as a Christmas tree. The hatchet which he was using slipped cutting off the greater part of the thumb of his left hand.

Mrs. Peter Brown is recovering from an acute attack of indigestion.

Miss Eureka Deckrow and Mr. John Stephan Jr. were united in marriage Friday evening of last week by Rev. Aaron Mitchell. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Deckrow, and Mr. Stephan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephan Sr., who reside down the Au-Sable. The young couple expect to make their home in Grayling.

Constable Mike Brenner had a narrow escape last night when a stranger whom he was taking to the county jail, suddenly jerked away from him and deliberately fired two shots at him, one bullet striking the officer in the neck just below the right chin and coming out just back of the place it entered. Had it not been for the prompt action of the officer in knocking his assailant down with his club, no doubt there would have been a fatal casualty to report today. The man was in town with an extra railroad crew, and had attempted to pass a forged check.

Mrs. J. J. Love was called to Miss Maude Tetu came home from Bay City Wednesday to spend the holidays with her mother and other relatives.

Fred Narrin has disposed of his general store business in Sigma and the family is moving to Lansing.

Mrs. Wilfred Cohen of Detroit arrived in the city Tuesday to spend the holidays visiting her mother, Mrs. Albert Kraus and other relatives.

Washington—Seventeen of the American engineers who dropped their shovels to pitch into the fighting when they were caught by the German advance in front of Cambrai were reported Sunday as "missing in action." Nearly all of them were from New York City or nearby. Reported as missing, the men may have been taken as prisoners by the Germans.

Lansing—Because it seems to be the policy of the war department to interpose a great force of Americans to aid in checking the German's western drive at the earliest possible moment, the ban on married men in the armed forces of the nation has been lightened so far as the volunteer army is concerned. The new order means the re-enlistment of many of the 500 guardsmen, who were discharged last summer because they had dependents. The boys of the thirty-second division, now training at Waco, Texas, will be the next contingent to leave for France.

Washington—Two "lightless nights" a week have been ordered by the fuel administration. Sunday and Thursday of each week are the days selected.

Earl Barber, third son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Barber, left Wednesday to join the Navy.

German Priest, Schoolmaster, Wrote 'Silent Night'

"SILENT NIGHT," the favorite Christmas carol, was written by a German country priest and his friend, the schoolmaster of a neighboring village, for a Christmas now a century gone. After its first use in 1818, in a little Austrian town, it gradually made friends until it came to be known in all Germany and, in translation, in many other countries, observes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The author of the verses of "Stille

Nacht! Heilige Nacht!" was Joseph Mohr, born in Salzburg, Austria, in 1792. He was ordained a priest in 1815, and when he wrote the song was assistant at Laufen, on the Salz, near Salzburg. Later he held pastorates in various other places, and died in 1848.

The schoolmaster of Arnsdorf, near Laufen, who wrote the music of this and also of a number of lesser known hymns, was Franz Gruber, born in Hochburg in 1797.

THE BISHOP'S TWO-THIRDS

(Baltimore Evening Sun)
Declaring that no law had been more maliciously misrepresented or disregarded than the now de jure prohibition act, Bishop Ralph S. Cushman, president of the Anti-Saloon league, yesterday dwelt upon what he called the "substantial benefits" which prohibition brought to the nation. Among these benefits he asserted was a one-third decline in the consumption of liquor and a rapid increase in the national wealth.

It is perfectly true that the prohibition law was disregarded—it was, in fact, unenforceable on that account. But consider the dry bishop's statement about a one-third decline in the consumption of liquor. Assuming that his statement is correct, that we are by no means assured that it is, what about his willingness to return to a situation in which two-thirds of the gigantic liquor traffic would be in the hands of thugs, gangsters, gunmen, hijackers, racketeers, murderers, criminals of the vilest stripe imaginable? For that, in effect, is exactly what he proposes.

Prohibition gave rise to this breed of underworld gentry. The very names of many kinds of the most vicious outlaws were a product of the dry era. They operated without benefit of any law—except, of course, the prohibition law, which brought them into being. Two-thirds of it was it more? of the gigantic liquor traffic paid no state or federal taxes, underwent no liquor control board supervision, bred contempt for all laws and disregarded every principle of decency. The "substantial benefits" of which Bishop Cushman speaks, the "rapid increase in wealth," went to the prohibition gangsters. Is it to this foul mess that the Anti-Saloon league would have the nation return?

Yule Log Cake

This year you may want to make a "Yule Log Cake." It's quite simple. Spread over a jelly roll a felled fruit nut mixture. Roll quickly and wrap in waxed paper. Then chill until set. Cover with chocolate French pastry icing. The "bark" can be made by making grooves with a fork or pastry tube. You'll want some "knot holes" in your Yule Log Cake. Small white and green candles will do the trick. The "log" should be kept chilled until time to serve.

Our store will be open every night until Christmas.

Highway M-208 Is Now M-72

The local State Highway Maintenance Garage will take over the maintenance of the newly acquired stretch of road which has been known as M-208, on January first, and the number will be changed to M-72. Highway 72 begins at Harrisville, and instead of stopping at the junction of 76 and 72, has been changed to go on through to Grayling from Luzerne. The stretch between 76 and Luzerne is now 144.

On the new maps it also shows that 76 from Grayling to Kalkaska has been changed to 72, so that 76 now ends at the State Garage in Grayling. From the shore of Lake Michigan at Empire begins a small stretch of highway which is numbered 72 and is about seven miles long. Some day this highway and the 72 that ends at Kalkaska will be joined by a new road, making this a cross state highway.

This will be a great accomplishment for the State Highway department, and will join many cities that have otherwise seemed so far away.

Thanks, Al

There comes to our desk a 12-page folder, setting forth in pictures mostly, Grayling's importance in the Winter Sports world, an importance that has grown on that community in leaps and bounds, as they have been privileged to have the needed natural resources for winter sports projects and have been far-sighted enough to see and take advantage of those opportunities. Lots of things have contributed to that importance, but mostly a dynamic, not afraid, desire to do, not delegate it all to some faithful "George" to do, but happily, whole heartedly and enthusiastically unite in a Winter Sports plan that has taken hold like wild fire. The pictures on that newly produced folder are all of winter sports events and happenings in the past. It is attractive, enticing and vividly pictures what really does happen down there toward making the winter visitors happy, satisfied and determined to come again the next year where the variety of the program and entertainment is greater than the year before. Grayling's enthusiasm about winter sports has won them the way to pursue strings that have made unbelievable accomplishments possible. If this winter keeps right on making the kind of winter we have already experienced, Grayling will have to cry for help to take care of the milling thousands that will crowd in there from all over the middle west. This little observation is just a prelude to the big show.—Al Weber in Cheboygan Observer.

The Weather

Two below zero is the coldest we have had since our last weather report Thursday of last week, and that day was Saturday at 6 a. m. The warm sunshine all day melted the snow considerably, and made an ideal day for Christmas shoppers. By evening the temperature had dropped again to 18 above.

Sunday morning started out cold at 10 above and by evening was 25, with a slight rain. Monday was the warmest with the mercury standing at 30 both at 6 a. m. and 6 p. m. This morning at 6 o'clock the temperature was 28 above zero and the sky is cloudy, which will probably mean either rain or snow.

Mayor Geo. Burke is quite peeved over the fact that Wednesday night someone stole the wiring and trimmings from the Christmas tree on his front porch. "After the way I have tried to treat the boys and girls of Grayling, I can't understand why they should treat me so," he said. "We wouldn't want to promote strife among our youngsters, but we believe such young thieves should be given the cold shoulder by their associates."

Editor Al Weber of Cheboygan called on us Sunday. He was enroute home from a meeting of the executive committee of the Michigan Press association held in Lansing Saturday, of which he is the vice president. Al publishes one of the most interesting weekly newspapers in Michigan. He would have made a good umpire for in his "Observations" column he calls them as he sees 'em, regardless of whom it helps or hurts, and we think he is 99 plus percent right. More power to you Al!

Carl W. Peterson has taken over the distribution of the Buckeye Brewing Company beer. That company has been in business over 100 years and boast of a beer that is brewed in the slow way, the method that has made European beers famous. Carl says Buckeye beer costs more to brew and is better for you. He further says "drink to your health! Drink Buckeye beer."

Mr. Harold Fredberg of Cheboygan, manager of the Michigan Public Service Co., was in Grayling last week Thursday and stated that their local office would be closed some time in January. Service collections would be made at the Olaf Sorenson & Son store. He also said the Company was installing a new power plant near Boyne City. While it was not definitely determined, it was his belief that the new plant power would be Diesel engines.

Traverse City can feel very happy and can thank God it has in its midst a labor element that refuses to be herded into the folds and is satisfied to take its labor problems up with the industrialists themselves and not delegate controversies that may rise to outside agencies. Because of that independent action on their part they have no doubt prevented such a break down as we suffered here when a small group of easily persuaded girls of our city fell for a promise of higher wages—less hours, and less work. The Traverse City vote that directly involved less than two hundred employees of one firm was two to one against joining up to pay regular dues to an outside agency.—Cheboygan Observer.

City Council Proceedings

RECORD OF CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Special meeting held on the 9th day of December, 1940.

Meeting called to order by Mayor George Burke.

Councilmen present: Burke, Jenson, Carlson, Sales, Milnes. Absent: None.

Moved by Burke, supported by Jenson, that the following resolution be accepted, approved and adopted.

Yea: Sales, Jenson, Burke, Carlson and Milnes. Nay: None.

Whereas the municipal light and power plant of the city of Grayling has been in operation for nearly one year, during which time the operation thereof has been highly successful, and the light and power service furnished therefrom to the city has been far superior to the light and power service received by said city prior to the construction of said plant, and

Whereas, upon petition of many property owners at or near Lake Margrethe, who are dissatisfied with the electric service they now receive, said city is now in process of extending its lines to service the Lake Margrethe area, said extension to be completed on or about the end of January, 1941, and

Whereas said extension when completed will reach to the near vicinity of the Hanson Military Camp at Lake Margrethe, and with little effort and small expense can quickly be extended to service said Camp, and

Whereas the City of Grayling believes that it can furnish more efficient and satisfactory electric light and power service to said Military Camp than it now receives, is willing to extend its lines to service said Camp, at rates to be mutually agreed upon, and

Whereas said City further believes that efficient and satisfactory electric light and power service is not only desirable but also of the highest necessity for the proper operation of said Military Camp, now therefore,

It is Hereby Resolved that the facts relative to the furnishing of electric light and power service by the municipal light and power plant of the City of Grayling to said Military Camp be explained to the Military Board of the State of Michigan, and that request be made to said Board to enter into an agreement with said City for the furnishing of said electric light and power service, and

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this resolution be furnished to said Military Board and that such other and further steps as may be necessary be taken to properly present this matter before said Board.

Moved by Milnes, supported by Carlson, that the following resolution be accepted, approved and adopted.

Yea: Milnes, Carlson, Burke, Jenson, and Sales. Nay: None.

Whereas a great number of the citizens of Grayling and of the county of Crawford have requested the Common Council of said City of Grayling to take some action urging the use of the Hanson Military Camp at Lake Margrethe for the training of troops to be used in the National defense, and

Whereas it is the belief of said city that said Military Camp is a highly desirable camp for the training of such troops, and can and should be made into a permanent all year camp for such purposes, and

Whereas it is the further belief of said City that said Camp is ideally located for the proper training of troops, both in summer and winter maneuvers, now therefore,

It is Hereby Resolved that requests be made to the proper authority for the establishment of a permanent training camp at said Hanson Military Camp, and

It is Hereby Further Resolved that a copy of this resolution be furnished to said authority, and that such other and further steps as may be necessary be taken on behalf of said City to urge the occupation and use of said Camp for said purpose.

When Christmas Came

The Fireplace Glowed With Logs.

BRICE HARPER stepped from her train happily. A whole month with Christmas only ten days away. That meant nearly three weeks for after-Christmas jollification, skating, visiting round with old friends and just squatted before the big fireplace reading and talking. Wouldn't Aunt Margaret and Uncle Jake be pleased and surprised, for she had not written. After three steady, grinding, monotonous years in the department store, it would be heavenly.

She flashed a look down the platform. Yes, there was wooden-legged Sam, the expressman. Things hadn't changed a bit in three years.

"Hoo-hoo!" she challenged. The old expressman looked up, stared, then stumped forward. "Blest if 'tain't Brice Harper!" he cried. "Back among your old friends ag'in. Fine! Come to stay, or a visit?"

House Is Deserted.

"Just visiting, Uncle Sam—two whole weeks, though. Out to Aunt Margaret, Holmes. After three years! I'd never have believed I could stay away that long. But 500 miles—too far for a poor girl to afford paying fare for a few days' vacation. Now it's a month, though, because I haven't taken a vacation in so long. Can you take me and my trunk right out? I'll ride with you, and—"

"Ain't ye heered—had no letter ner nothin'?" asked the old man, whose face had been growing troubled.

"No-no. Anything the matter?" "No, except they ain't there. Your Aunt Margaret said Christmas was so lonesome here she couldn't spend another like the last. So two, three days ago—she an' your Uncle Jack went into the next county to spend Christmas with a cousin who has a passel o' children. I was by there yes-day, an' the house did look dismal all shot up."

"Isn't there any one to look after them?" "One o' the Dill boys was asked to, I believe. He—"

A shrill hail came from a store front across from the station. "S-say, Brice," wheeled the old expressman, "would ye mind waitin' three, four seconds? That mad shouter was Storekeeper Tomson. Been 'spectin' a box o' Christmas stuff more'n a week, an' 'twas jest throwed off this train. S'pose I take the box 'cross to him, then come an' carry you an' the trunk out to any o' your girl friends? They'll all be glad to have ye visit 'em."

But Brice had been thinking rapidly.

Invites Girl Friends.

"Take the box over to the store, Uncle Sam," she said, "and I'll run across to the post office while you're gone. I want to write some postals. And no, I won't embarrass any of my girl friends. You may carry me right out to the farmhouse. I know where Aunt Margaret hides the keys, and I'm perfectly sure she and Uncle Jack would want me to go right there and use everything as my own. I'll take care of the poultry," enthusiastically, "and I'll roast one of the turkeys for Christmas and cook everything that goes with it, pies and cakes and 'all. Won't it be fun!"

"You can invite a lot of your girl friends to eat with you," grinned the expressman, entering into the spirit. "Afterward," agreed Brice. "They'll all want to eat at home on Christmas. Then we'll have a round of nice times. But for the real Christmas I'm going to depend on their postals. There are lots of nice girls in the department store who haven't any home and who will have to depend on the cheap boarding-houses they live at. I'll write a postal to Aunt Margaret and to five or six girls I know will be glad to spend a week or ten days with me. And say, Uncle Sam, I'll look round and then make out a list of groceries and other things I want you to bring out, and—any place where I can buy a Christmas tree?"

"Ain't none better than grow right down on your uncle's place."

"All right. I'll get the Dill boy to help, an' we'll rig up a nice one."

"Need any Christmas present stuff?" chuckled old Sam. "Mebbe ye'd like to see Tomson pry the cover off that box."

"Deed I would," promptly. "I'll be right over from the post office."

The girls condemned to a prospective boarding-house Christmas accepted Brice's invitation relievedly. On the third day Old Sam brought the hilarious five out in his ancient express wagon.

Then the girls piled in like a whole jolly Christmas in itself, and the old farmhouse seemed like to burst itself. The Christmas tree was cut and drawn home with all the appropriate songs and carols and huzzas they could think of, and trimmed as never a Christmas tree had been trimmed before. Dressed in all sorts of costumes, the happy girls sang hymns hour after hour, quitting only when they were too tired to continue.

And then, right in the midst of it the hearty voice of Uncle Jack roared through the door, mellowed by the softer, happy laugh of Aunt Margaret.

"I'm going to have that dinky post office over there indicted," guffawed Uncle Jack. "Kept that postal four days before the R. F. D. delivered it. Fifteen minutes after that we were on our way. Of course, we had to come. Five more girls to help wake the old house up! Whoopie! Why didn't you write so we needn't have left the lonesome place?"

Need More Food.

"Why didn't you write so I'd have known what to expect?" retorted Brice.

"Lucky none of us did," laughed Aunt Margaret, "for then we might not have these five extra nice girls. Come, I must get into the kitchen."

"But we've cooked and cooked, and cooked, till—"

"Not enough," declared Aunt Margaret firmly. "no matter how much you've done. There are all your old friends that must be invited to come—though they'll come anyhow. And we must invite a lot of extra young people in evenings to help keep things going. Then—my land! There's a wagon-load outside. Cousin Mary didn't want us to leave, so we brought 'em all along. Jack's going into town this evening to buy what he can find. If any of your girls want to go along he'd like your company."

"But, Aunt Margaret, we've got a tree ram-jammed full," protested Brice.

"Not enough," firmly. "We can pack on the floor under the tree. Now I'm going into the kitchen. Can't you see, girls," her firm voice dropping pathetically, "being Christmas, I've just got to cook something."

Senior Studies

This week we are interviewing Louise Annis. Louise's hair is light brown and she has blue eyes. She was born July 6, 1923 in Beaver Creek. She is a fairly stout girl and 5 feet 8 1/2 inches tall. Louise attended Beaver Creek schools up until the eighth grade. She has continued through high school at "good old Grayling high". She has chosen an interesting hobby which is stamp collecting. Louise also enjoys skiing as a winter sport.

Her favorite subject is history. She has no favorite song. Lilacs are the choice of flowers, especially in spring. Besides five subjects she belongs to the Hostess Club. Her ambition is to go to a retail work therefore she is planning to attend business college in Bay City soon.

Winter

I am always excited when the first snow falls and most other people are too. There are a few people who look at snow with a child running down their spine when they think of a long winter ahead. The things that these people have in mind are that snow causes the leaves to go from the trees, causes birds to go south because they can't find food and causes withering of the flowers.

But if birds, the leaves and flowers were here all year around they wouldn't seem half as wonderful to us as they do now. So snow is really helpful to us and what great fun it is. If it was not for snow you couldn't do the countless things that help you to pass your time such as skating, sliding and skiing. Also trees laden with glistening snow help to make the woods attractive for travelers.

Making a snowman is great fun too, especially if you try to make him look like someone you know. Best of all snow is such clean fun. It seems that no matter how hard you try it's impossible to get very dirty. All-in-all snow is a wonderful thing indeed and I think most everyone agrees to this, or at least I hope so.

Irene Tahvonen, Eighth Grade.

Snow Fun

The light shines on the sparkling snow
As you walk along it seems to glow
Winter is the time of year
To make the children full of cheer
The snowflakes flutter like a bird
And Christmas songs will soon be heard.

Winter sports are good for one
And are also lots of fun
To ski downhill with perfect skill
Or take a merry run.

I like to watch the snow in flight
As it covers all the ground so white
And watch the children playing around
And building snowmen on the ground.

By Leonard C.

Snow

I like the snow in the winter time
So glistening and white.
When the light from the stars
And moon above
Make it sparkle in the night.

I like to play in the snow; that is
If the wind is blowing mild.
But I don't if the wind is blowing hard.

Nor does any other child.
I don't mind any time of year,
Spring or summer or fall.
But I really think that winter
Is the merriest time of all.

Faith Nolan,
Eighth Grade.

Home Economics Club Dance

The Home Economics Club gave its first dance of the year in the gymnasium last Friday evening. The gym was decorated with large pine boughs tied with red bows.

Music was furnished by Nelson's Orchestra of Gaylord. All those who attended had a most enjoyable evening.

Eighth Grade News

The Eighth grade English classes have been very busy the past week decorating the large tree which Howard Deckrow brought to school.

Bonnie Gierke and Marjorie Andrus made strings of popcorn while other girls have made gay colored chains.

The classes will have a party Friday morning.

Home Economics News

All Home Economics Classes are working on Red Cross diapers in their odd moments. The Eighth and Ninth grade Home Ec. classes are bringing food to make Christmas baskets for the poor families of Grayling.

All Home Economics Classes are working on Christmas decorations for the room.
They are still looking for a second hand chair.

Kalkaska Defeats Grayling
Last Thursday Grayling played their first home game and were defeated by a team which was very good on their shots. Kalkaska had played three games before this and had lost by very close margins.

Again it was height that accounted for most of the points. Kalkaska's center made ten points.

There was a fairly large turnout for the game but we hope there will be much larger ones in the future.

Grayling will go to Harbor Springs Thursday, which is Coach's home town, and we know he will be glad if we can win.

The second team won its first game this season by beating Kalkaska reserves 23-17. The first team's score was 24-20 in favor of Kalkaska.

We hope everyone who can will make the trip to Harbor Springs. Do not forget to come to the next home game, Saturday, January 4th.

CCC Camp Requires Complex Form

(Submitted by A. K. Braidwood, Project Supt.)

Parents of Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees and other interested citizens have but little conception of the complex organization required to operate the average CCC camp. Nearly everyone knows that enrollees are well clothed and comfortably housed; that the average enrollee gains pounds in weight during his "hitch"; that many complete elementary school, high school and college training, or learn trades and acquire skills while in the camps; that the CCC built a dam, or fire tower or developed a state park in the vicinity, but few people know that different groups of people are responsible for each of those various accomplishments.

The seventy-fifth Congress of the United States of America passed an Act establishing the Civilian Conservation Corps for the purpose of providing employment and vocational training for youthful citizens of the United States, who were unemployed and in need of employment, and to a limited extent, for war veterans and Indians, through the performance of useful public work in connection with the conservation and development of natural resources of the United States and that at least ten hours each week should be devoted to general educational and vocational training. The President was empowered to appoint a Director, with the consent of the Senate, to direct the activities of the Corps in carrying out the purpose of the Act.

Three agencies cooperate directly with the Director in organizing the Corps. The Civilian Conservation Corps Division of Selection, through its representatives, selects those eligible for enrolment. The United States Army and its affiliates examine, enroll, house, clothe, feed and provide medical attention for the enrollees.

The Bureau of Education of the United States Department of Interior provides an educational adviser and much instructional material for each camp and cooperates with local schools and other organizations for providing educational and vocational training in the camps.

When all of the above mentioned agencies have completed their initial organization duties, a vast supply of labor is then available for the accomplishment of the needed conservation work. The Corps can rightfully be considered a labor agency. It has no work projects of its own but relies on the various conservation agencies to provide approved types of work for its members to do.

At this point several other public agencies are brought into the picture. The U. S. Forest Service, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Soil Conservation Service, National Parks Service, U. S. Indian Service, and various State Conservation Departments are some of those charged with the conservation and development of the Nation's natural resources which provide the work on which the Corps is engaged. They are usually referred to as the "using agencies or services." In addition to planning and laying out the work for accomplishment by the Corps, their is also the responsibility for selecting the supervision required to bring to the desired state of completion the scheduled work.

Thus, when the camp is established, the work provided, the selectees enrolled and the supervision provided, we find in each camp, three different agencies represented. The Army personnel engaged in housing, clothing, feeding and looking after the welfare of the enrollees. The Bureau of Education representative or Educational Adviser planning and coordinating the educational and vocational training facilities of the camp and the "using Service" personnel training the enrollees to do the work and supervising them while they are engaged on the work projects as well as procuring the necessary tools, equipment and materials required to complete the work.

Designs Ready For New Ski Jump

Plans have just been received for the construction of the junior ski jump. These plans were drawn by the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation from specifications approved by the Central Ski association.

This junior jump will be located on the site of the ski jump of the old Winter Sports Park. It will have a 40 foot tower and on fast days should allow jumps up to 80 feet. Composed entirely of white pine timbers set on concrete footings it will have a long life if properly maintained. The footings and jump are so designed however that a steel structure can later be substituted. Considerable grading must be done on the old jumping slope before it meets official ski jump specifications.

The National Park Service and the State Parks Division had expected to construct the junior jump for use this winter and in anticipation had sawn out all necessary timbers and lumber. Since the season is now so far advanced construction will be postponed until spring and a temporary jump with a 36 foot tower built for immediate use by the Winter Sports Association and the Hartwick Pines Camp.

The Kerry and Hanson Flooring company have been given the work of kiln drying and planing 10,000 board feet of lumber to be used as roof boards on the toboggan house. The roof of this structure is of heavy construction requiring 2 inch by 6 inch matched boards laid over large purlins which are in turn carried by huge trusses.

Special Dangers Of Winter Driving

Prompted by the fact statistics show an annual rise in the accident rate during the early days of winter, State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy this week warned motorists of the special dangers of winter driving.

Kennedy pointed out that while it was the constant aim of the highway department to maintain roadways as free from snow and ice as possible, winter driving conditions require a change in summer driving habits.

"Increase in accidents at this time of year," Kennedy said, "is accounted for by the fact that motorists must become accustomed to winter driving habits. They must learn how to stop on snowy pavements. Some persons wait until they have a close call before checking up on defrosters and other equipment used in winter driving."

Kennedy also took occasion to warn motorists against "frost skidding." He explained maintenance crews were unable to sand roads to eliminate the hazard since it disappears, in the absence of snow and ice, in the first few minutes of sunlight.

Said Kennedy:
"A road may look safe because it shows only hoarfrost, but that thin film of exceptionally slippery frost is a distinct threat to the motorist who depends on it for a braking surface or to hold his car from skidding on abrupt turns."

Flying Cadet Training Now Open At Navy Recruiting Stations

Announcing a change, effective today, in the Navy Department, Commander Carson R. Miller, Recruiting Officer, stated that applicants for Navy flying cadet training may now apply directly to their nearest Navy Recruiting Stations.

"Young men over 20 and under 27 years of age who are single and have been American citizens for at least ten years, are eligible, providing they have two years of accredited college training and can pass our physical examination. Such young men will receive four years of flight training in the Navy and the opportunity of reaching the rank of Lieutenant Junior Grade in the Naval Reserve or in the Regular Navy. Pay during this period is from $75.00 to $245.00 per month, not including quarters and subsistence," said the Commander.

It was pointed out that men who had failed in the examination for Army flight training are not eligible.

First to Send In Xmas Seal Proceeds

The Love school in Beaver Creek township, with Lloyd Dumond as teacher, was the first in Crawford county to send back proceeds from the annual rural school sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association announced today. Many of the schools are requesting more seals as the sales this year are going higher than ever before.

The seal sale in rural schools is usually conducted on a competitive basis. This year, the children are divided into two teams: one called Microbe Hunters, and the other, Germ-Chasers. Children sell the seals only in districts where it is difficult to reach all purchasers by any other medium.

The tuberculosis Christmas seal pennies bring many health education activities and programs to schools. Sound movies are available to parent-teacher associations and schools; the Wolverine Health Bulletin is distributed monthly to all rural schools as an aid to both teacher and pupil in their health programs; and many school health plays and songs will be sent out during the coming year.

This program has been carried on for many years by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association with the purpose of making better health habits a part of education.

Making Plans For Holiday Driving

State Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander and State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy today gave Michigan motorists something to think of in making plans for holiday driving.

During the five week period from Dec. 1 to Jan. 4 last year there were 120 fatal accidents in Michigan, according to state police reports, as compared with a total of 97 for the same period in 1938.

Contrary to popular belief, the commissioners revealed that Christmas was the most dangerous day of the entire holiday season to be on the highways, surpassing even New Year's eve or New Year's day in the number of fatalities recorded.

Said the commissioners: "Accidents increase in number and seriousness as the Christmas-New Year week approaches. Last year 10 fatal accidents were listed from 4 p. m. on Christmas eve until 12 p. m. on Christmas day, an increase of three over the preceding year and the greatest number for any like period during the entire season."

"It would seem the greatest Christmas present Michigan motorists could give one another would be a determination to eliminate careless driving which accounts for most of the deaths." The New Year holiday was shown as being a comparative safe period as compared with Christmas. Last year five fatal accidents were recorded on New Year's eve and New Year's day.

an increase of one over the previous year.

Motorists were also warned to be on the alert while driving in rural areas, especially during the late afternoon and at night, under which conditions the big majority of fatal accidents occur.

Of the 120 fatal accidents during the five week holiday season last year, it was revealed 98 of them occurred in rural areas after 5 p. m.

"This would indicate," the commissioners said, "that the safest way to assure a merry Christmas for everyone would be to plan your trip so as to be able to reach your destination without taking any unnecessary risks. In rural areas many safeguards are not available that are provided in cities and the motorist must discipline himself against indiscretion accordingly."

The percentage of drivers found to have been drinking prior to fatal accidents was only slightly higher during the holiday season, according to the state police reports. From the yearly average of between 12 and 13 per cent, the number advanced to 14 per cent during the five week holiday period.

"MY FIVE YEARS AS A RED SPY IN RUSSIA"

Edmund Ruzanski, a Michigan engineer, discloses—in The American Weekly with the December 22 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times—how communism has degraded Russian women, and tells how, instead of a Workers' Paradise he expected to find under Soviet rule, he found a Workers' Hell. Frederic News

Mr. and Mrs. Ussel Cox spent Sunday afternoon in Grayling.

"Chick" Welch arrived home last week for a visit with his family.

A gasoline stove at the school house kitchen exploded Monday. All children marched to safety. No one was injured. Supt. Lee extinguished the fire.

The baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Welch was taken to the hospital and had part of a button removed from its throat, which he swallowed about Oct. 30. He is much improved at this writing.

Ina Shaul of Lake Pleasant, N. P., is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Ace D. Leng.

Mrs. Maude Shorts was very pleasantly surprised Sunday, it being her birthday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carlson and family of Roscommon, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bigham of Maple Forest, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Feiler of Mancelona, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Shorts of Grayling. All had a very pleasant day and left lovely tokens as well as wishing many more birthdays.

Mrs. John Olson of Deward has moved to Frederic with her son, Carl Olson.

The school will have their Christmas tree Thursday night (tonight) in the auditorium, with a program. All invited.

We are sorry to learn that Eli Fortish has been on the sick list for the past week.

Springers for your holiday dinner. Order not later than Dec. 22 for Christmas, and not later than Dec. 23 for New Year. —Chas. Corwin.

Recreational Notes

In the area of which Mr. Clough is supervisor, Leo Lovely was sent to the Winter Sports carnival and training center at Marquette and Ishpeming. This training consisted of construction of all winter sports, such as building toboggan slides, toboggans, skis, and snowshoes.

Ewald Ospland, one of the best skiers in the north, gave instructions in skiing.

All this valuable information is to be brought back to the leaders in the various counties to better their winter sports activities in the recreational program.

There were some very interesting speakers attending this conference. Mr. Epply of the National Park Service, Nebraska; Mr. Beresford, National Training Director, WPA Recreation, Washington, D. C.; Mr. C. B. Hedgecock of Northern State Teachers College, and many others.

This program is sponsored by the Michigan Works Project Administration, in cooperation with local organizations.
